Summary of the Course

Subject Area: French Studies
This course can also be studied in the following specialisation: European Studies

The French Impressionists and Post-Impressionists, such as Monet, Renoir and Cézanne, remain fascinating artists whose works have made a major contribution to modern art. In this course you will explore historical accounts of various painters’ lives and explore some of their works. You will examine the reasons for their significance and discuss the oppositions of life and art, truth and fiction, the movement of Impressionism and Post-Impressionism versus individuality and the notion of the work of art.

This course is taught in English and with readings in English.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. By the end of this course, students will have developed their knowledge of the lives some important French painters and will have some basic appreciation of Impressionism and post-Impressionism.
2. Students will understand productive ways to approach texts and film.
3. Students will increase their knowledge of social issues in their complexity.
4. Students will improve their ability to express and discuss these issues.

Teaching Strategies

The course is designed to enable students to gain an in-depth and scholarly understanding of these mythical artists, as well as insight into their art. The course will broaden students’ general knowledge of French culture. This course is taught in a lecture / tutorial format. Students will be encouraged to participate actively.
Assessment

Travel arrangements made prior or/and after the publication of the course overview are not a valid reason for rescheduling of assessment.

Course Evaluation and Development

Your feedback is important to us and you will be able to tell us what you think and how the course can be improved by participating in The MyExperience student evaluations at the end of the term.

Previous students told us that the course was interesting but was too focussed on fiction and not on the actual art. That is why this course has been fully redesigned with a new schedule and topics fully relevant to the artistic movement and the specificities of individual painters as well as the society they lived in.
Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally, assessment tasks must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible, it will be stated on your course’s Moodle site with alternative submission details.

Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: Changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and/or progression of ideas of the original, and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit and to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without appropriate referencing.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices:

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks
- effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time
• understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW
• be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy
• be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community
• locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
