Summary of the Course

Indigenous Australian Political History tells the story of Indigenous resistance, activism and political organisation during the twentieth century in Australia. Each week focuses on the story of a particular Indigenous leader, with emphasis on the historical contexts and political environments that shaped their perspectives and actions. Brought together, the course forms a narrative revealing the recurring themes, directions, tensions, successes and legacies of Indigenous political history.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Identify the historical conditions shaping Indigenous political action in the twentieth century
2. Describe the life and manifesto of key Indigenous political actors
3. Evaluate scholarly arguments about the aims and impacts of Indigenous political action
4. Apply your scholarly investigations to the design of discussion activities for the benefit of the tutorial group

Teaching Strategies

Indigenous Studies emphasises the need to contextualise the historical, social and political circumstances that have led to problematic relationships between Indigenous and non-Indigenous Australians. These continue to shape contemporary Australian society. As a discipline that supports the capacity of all students to engage in respectful dialogue with Australian issues, we utilise a learning and teaching approach centred on critical reflective practice. This is a core learning tool of all courses aiding student contextualisation of content and knowledge and enhancing student-centred learning through the process of self-reflection.

The course content is explored through a series of lectures and tutorials. Lectures draw on material from a number of disciplines including history, sociology, and cultural studies. They will be presented using a variety of formats, media, and guest lectures.

Tutorials involve a mixture of discussions, presentations, and group activities, providing a space for students to actively engage with the course material. Students are encouraged to constructively draw on personal experiences and contemporary media issues.
Assessment

Marking criteria for each task will be presented in-class and made available on Moodle.

All written components of graded assessment to be submitted online via Turnitin. Students are encouraged to check their Turnitin reports for plagiarism before submission.

Assessment Details

Assessment 1: Tutorial contribution and graded post

Start date: Week 2

Length: Weekly posts of between 100-200 words from which students select two sets of two posts for grading. For more information see the course Moodle page.

Details:

Over a period of nine weeks, students will be given specific roles to guide their engagement with course readings and to structure their participation in tutorial discussion. Students will post the content of their weekly on Moodle. After receiving oral feedback in class, and talking through their ideas with their peers, they select two posts to edit and submit for formal grading. Students will receive comprehensive written feedback on graded posts and they will be marked according to established marking criteria made available to students at the beginning of term.

Submission notes: Via Moodle and Turnitin.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.

Assessment 2: Tutorial discussion leadership

Start date: Week 2
Length: 15-20 minutes / 1 page

Details:

Students are required to respond to weekly course readings and guide the class through a discussion of the salient points. Students are marked according to established criteria made available at the beginning of term and they are also given written feedback.

Submission notes: In class

Assessment 3: Research Essay

Start date: Not Applicable

Length: 2500

Details:

Students are required to submit an essay demonstrating independent research made in response to an essay question specified by the course coordinator. The essay will be graded according to marking criteria made available to students at the beginning of term and returned to students with written feedback.

Additional details:

Instructions for the Research Essay Format

- indicate which essay question you have chosen to answer
- leave a space and a half between lines
- use 12 point font
- leave a wide margins for the marker's comments
- use the Harvard (in text) referencing system. Referencing guidelines may be obtained from the Learning Centre or online at https://student.unsw.edu.au/harvard-referencing

It is student's responsibility to retain a copy of your essay at all times in case of lost or misplaced essays.

Turnitin setting: This assignment is submitted through Turnitin and students can see Turnitin similarity reports.
Attendance Requirements

Students are strongly encouraged to attend all classes and review lecture recordings.

Resources

Prescribed Resources

Course readings are available via Leganto on Moodle.

Recommended Resources

Information on suggested further resources is available on Moodle.

Course Evaluation and Development

Student evaluative feedback is gathered periodically using, among other means, MyExperience student course surveys. Informal feedback and class-generated feedback are also important. Student feedback is taken seriously, and continual improvements are made to the course based in part on such feedback. Significant changes to the course will be communicated to subsequent cohorts of students taking the course.
Submission of Assessment Tasks

Turnitin Submission

If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally in Nura Gili there are no hard-copy submission; assessments must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible it will be stated on your course’s moodle site with alternative submission details.

Late Assessment Penalties

An assessed task is deemed late if it is submitted after the specified time and date as set out in the course Learning Management System (LMS).

The late penalty is the loss of 5% of the total possible marks for the task for each day or part thereof the work is late. Lateness will include weekends and public holidays. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded.

Work submitted fourteen (14) days after the due date will be marked and feedback provided but no mark will be recorded. If the work would have received a pass mark but for the lateness and the work is a compulsory course component, a student will be deemed to have met that requirement. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded.

Work submitted twenty-one (21) days after the due date will not be accepted for marking or feedback and will receive no mark or grade. If the assessment task is a compulsory component of the course a student will automatically fail the course.

Special Consideration Applications

You can apply for special consideration when illness or other circumstances interfere with your assessment performance.

Sickness, misadventure or other circumstances beyond your control may:

* Prevent you from completing a course requirement,

* Keep you from attending an assessable activity,

* Stop you submitting assessable work for a course,
* Significantly affect your performance in assessable work, be it a formal end-of-semester examination, a class test, a laboratory test, a seminar presentation or any other form of assessment.

For further details in relation to Special Consideration including "When to Apply", "How to Apply" and "Supporting Documentation" please refer to the Special Consideration website: https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration
Academic Honesty and Plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.

Inappropriate paraphrasing: changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit. It also applies to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without referencing and a student’s own analysis to bring the material together.

Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.

Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Correct referencing practices;

- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre (http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/). Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

UNSW Library also has the ELISE tool available to assist you with your study at UNSW. ELISE is designed to introduce new students to studying at UNSW but it can also be a great refresher during your study.

Completing the ELISE tutorial and quiz will enable you to:

- analyse topics, plan responses and organise research for academic writing and other assessment tasks effectively and efficiently find appropriate information sources and evaluate relevance to your needs
- use and manage information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose
- better manage your time understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UNSW be aware of plagiarism, copyright, UNSW Student Code of Conduct and Acceptable Use of UNSW ICT Resources Policy be aware of the standards of behaviour expected of everyone in the UNSW community locate services and information about UNSW and UNSW Library

Some of these areas will be familiar to you, others will be new. Gaining a solid understanding of all the related aspects of ELISE will help you make the most of your studies at UNSW.
